F12 · N1 is 58% of scored transitions and experts barely agree on it (κ=0.24). Exclude them and the standard current-stage baseline falls below chance (AUC 0.486, z=−4.28) while EEG alone rises to 0.599 — its apparent skill on all transitions was N1 instability, not prediction.